

2021
DUAL CODE SPECTACULAR

23rd May

Judges: Sue Oberg (NSW), E Fricker (SA)
& S Thompson (VIC)

It was with hesitation that the committee gambled on taking quite a few chances with the high possibility that this event would even go ahead let alone entertain the thought of having Eastern States judges willing to travel interstate during the COVID restrictions in place. The three ES qualified National standing judges were commissioned by SPPHAWA to oversee the three rings at the immaculate curated and picture-perfect set up at the Perth Polo grounds in Guildford. This year's event was supported with the OTTWA Classics for both codes as on the previous occasion, but we condensed the Dual Code program considerably to enable the running of both of the programs as a one-day event. This proved to be a very popular move that we will now consider in going forward for future years.

There were large quality fields of horses of all ages competing in the three rings (Standardbreds, Thoroughbreds and Partbred Thoroughbreds) to kick off the Dual Code program in the morning. Due to the generosity of leading trainers Gary Hall Snr, Debbie Padberg, Sue Wiscombe, grass root clubs in Wagin Trotting Club and the tremendous on-going support of WASBA, we were able to award beautiful sashes and prizes throughout the event. Registered re-homer of Standardbreds through the OTTWA program, Bayley Thomas also jumped at the opportunity to join the list of sponsors of the event.

Sue Oberg was the Standardbred judge for these morning classes and certainly had a very difficult time when these former stoic gaited horses were presented for judging with sleek glistening coats adorned with stylish patterns, make up and plaited manes and tails on show with their equally fashionist handlers and riders accompanying them without a hint that they once had a pacing gait. So high was the presentation in this ring, that had the Standardbred combination of Tims Portrait and Alex Markowski take out the Best Presented Exhibit of the two codes.

The athletic combination of President Hoylake and Kerryn Davey made a clean sweep of the morning proceedings when awarded Supreme Led Standardbred and followed with the Supreme Open Ridden Standardbred as well. Aspasia and Kristie Morrone accentuated the quality of WA Bred horses with her young mare claiming Champion Led Mare and Supreme Elementary Ridden Standardbred at her first outing under saddle making it a double for local WA bred horses.
